About Jack

Jack Stewart is one of Method Recruitment's experienced consultants within their Technology & Delivery team. With a background in International Relations and an ongoing focus on customer service throughout his career, his recruitment career has seen him quickly create a strong brand within Melbourne's technology market over the past 3 years. He focuses on effectively communicating with his client and candidate network. He understands the transactional reputation the recruitment industry can get and looks to act as a true consultant to understand the pain points of his industry and offer alternative solutions that have desired and long-lasting outcomes.

Technology has been a growing passion for Jack, and he gets a lot of satisfaction out of helping deliver businesses the right people to help them transform and engage with their customer base in the digital century. He sees Product Management and Business Analysis as really important functions in helping companies understand where they and their customers are at and where they need to get to, while Project and Change Management are critical in delivering business transformation and taking both people and systems along for the journey. He views the shift to agile and iterative delivery over the past 5 years as positive not only for improved software development, but in transforming the way that teams and businesses collaborate – when implemented with the right motivations.

Projects / Technologies

- Software as a Service (SaaS)
- Supply Chain, Logistics, Distribution Centre technology
- Workforce Management – HRIS, Payroll, Time & Attendance
- CRM & ERP – Microsoft Dynamics, Salesforce, Oracle
- Content Management Systems (Adobe, Sitecore, Kentico)
- Cloud Transformation (AWS, Azure, GCP)
- Digital Personalisation / Omnichannel / Ecommerce
- Loyalty / Rewards

Case Study

Jack partnered with a fast-growing Edutech SaaS business that were rapidly scaling their technology team during the COVID-19 pandemic. Alongside his engineering team, Jack led the recruitment drive for the company's Product function, placing 2 Delivery Managers and a Senior Product Manager. These were new roles within the business and extremely important to its strategic growth, requiring individuals that had set up product capability & delivery framework in greenfield environments. Moreover, Jack was able to manage a thorough process and ensure candidate committal to the role during what was a very fluid market when moving jobs was a daunting process. He received high praise from the company's Product Director regarding his consultative approach, and from his candidates in how he represented the company and had their best interests at heart.

Testimonial

Jack would easily be one of the hardest working recruiters I have met. In what at times can seem like a commodity and volume-based industry, Jack's personalised approach really stands out for many reasons, no more though than the fact that it is so effective. He goes above and beyond to understand not just the role but also the broader objectives of the organisation and invests considerable time to learn about candidates on a personal level, far beyond what appears in a resume or LinkedIn profile, to ensure that they are set up for success. I would highly recommend Jack to any organisations looking for assistance in finding the right person to bring into their team.
